

Baldwin Preview:

Last Season Recap: The Highlanders last season continued their losing season ways when finishing 1-9, however individual players were able to stand out and continue to develop nicely.

Offense: QB John Kozar while throwing more INT than TD's last season, Kozar from when he started his sophomore year is continuing to develop well and has a chance to pass the 1,000 yard mark this year. When you talk about offense for Baldwin you can't do that without mentioning Keith Mincin and Andrew Sharp. Mincin led the team with 303 receiving yards while Sharp led the team with 794 rushing yards last season with a combined 14 TDs between the two.

Defense: There is truly nothing good to say defensively about this team from last season. Besides Week 0 against Brashear, the team gave up 35+ points a game.

Overall: With the senior campaign of Mincin, Sharp, and Kozar on the way, new head coach Dana Brown looks to be working well with these boys and a 3-win season seems in the grasp for the Highlanders this season.
