

Fox Chapel Preview:

Last Season Schedule:

Last Season Recap: Last season was one to forget for Fox Chapel went winless last year, and six of those 10 losses came with giving up 40+ points.

Offense: Their starting QB Benjamin DeMonte while eclipsing 1,000 passing yards did throw twice as many interceptions as TDs. Only two players on the team had 200+ receiving yards with one of those plays having 649 (Tyrese Samuels). Rushing wise the Foxes had two players with 100+ yards rushing with their leading rusher having 379 rushing yards (Matthew Fugh). As a team, they only had one game where they scored 20+ points.

Defense: Defensively there wasn't a game last season they did not give up less than 28 points. Their smallest score differential was -14 points when they played against Norwin.

Overall: Last season was one left to be desired, however when you have seasons like this there is only one direction you can go and that is up. DeMonte is a junior who is he throws less interceptions can be a solid QB, Samuels as well is a senior who if continuing to progress can also have a 800+ yard season receiving. The running game has its starting spot open, which means that it is a next man up mentality. While a lot to fix this season it is very capable for the Foxes.
