

Hampton "Talbots"

Last Year Schedule

Last year's overview: The Talbots went 5-6, including a playoff berth. This season was a bit of a letdown as they went 11-1 the previous season.

Offensive Overview: The Talbot's offensive had a rough year. They lost their starting quarterback Joey Mayer to injury in week three. He ended up coming back late in the year to end the year with 973 yards and 15 touchdowns in 7 games played. Adrian Midgley is the quarterback who stepped up and played hard. In only 6 games played, he had 873 yards and 6 touchdowns. Though those stats are not breathtaking, it's good for a backup to come in with next to no reps with the first team. The passing game was not the only thing good this offense had as their running game was good, they had a 1,000-yard rusher in now senior Brock Borgo.

Defense Overview: This defense tried all they could to keep this team in some games. They averaged 17 points a game.

Overall: What is nice for this upcoming year is that Hampton doesn't have to go through a hard reset in the Quarterback position, as their new QB1 has game time under his belt. They also have a 1,000-yard rusher which helps them to relieve pressure off the passing game.
