

Quaker Valley Preview:

Last Season Recap: Last year the Quakers finished with a 2-8 record with both wins coming in the first four games, and only one win in conference play.

Offense: QB Troy Kozar passed for 706 yards last season, however, threw twice as many interceptions as TDs. While two players had 100+ yards receiving, only one had 400+, Jakub Pickett. Three different players had 100+ rushing yards and one player with 200+.

Defense: The Quakers allowed 38.9 points a game and had three games with allowing 55 or more points.

Overall: While having a losing season last year, the Quakers are essentially starting over. Kozar graduated, their best two receivers and their top RB. This is the best approach for the team as the team looks to turn things around starting in 2023.
