

South Park Eagles

Last year's overview- Last year Eagles went 5-6 Overall with a conference record of 4-2. They made playoffs for only one game losing to Shady Side Academy.

Offense overview: The Eagles' offense had a very inconsistent year. They had games where they looked like an unstoppable force, putting up 40 or more points. Then they would completely shut down the next week and put up nothing. What didn't help this was that they relied heavily on the running game. Last year, running back Eric Doerue had more rushing attempts than all the QB's passing attempts combined, with 187 total carries compared to 138 total passes by all QBs. They also averaged 25.5 points per game which is average compared to other teams.

Defense overview: In 11 total games played, they averaged 20 points per game. This is good, as the defense was able to relieve the pressure of an offense that was inconsistent.

Overall: This year is going to be a reset year for the Eagles in some Key position groups. For example, they lost their top 2 quarterbacks as they both graduated this past year. Out of their top 4 players in receiving yards they only retained two and one of them is a Tight end. This team is going to have a struggling year on the offensive side of the ball which will hold them down.
