Last year's overview: The Vikings went a total of 1-9 last season. Their only came against Uniontown which was not a section win. This makes them 0-5 in conference play.

Offense overview: the Viking's offense could not put up the necessary number of points needed. They only averaged 13 points a game. that's not even averaging two scores a game.

Defense: the Viking's defense could not stay in a game. They averaged 33 points scored on them a game. They had 8 total games where they gave up 30 or more points.

Overall: the Vikings need to improve both sides of the ball in general if they want a shot this year. They must find the right scheme that fits them and stay with it.
